Seeking for a challenging and result oriented carrier to reach the highest position in the field as an IT professional with a diploma degree in Information Computer Networks (Cisco) and a background in IT management and communications, I have a wealth of knowledge and the foundation necessary to excel in the IT and administrative fields. My motivation and excellent work ethic make me an asset in any professional setting, I am an adaptable, proactive individual and I work just as well independently as I do when part of a team with a progressive organization offering appropriate professional growth and experience .opportunity
